Discussion Questions

1.	As you contemplate your relationship with Yeshua, would you say that you, like Enoch, are walking with God? Take stock: What are some areas that you may be withholding from Him? What are some things you can now surrender to His control? What are some areas that you have resisted trusting God in and can now surrender to Lordship? Perhaps it might begin with just being willing to let Him bring you to a place of being willing.
2.	What might be some spiritual habits you need to start or break to see new growth? What might be some things that needed to be pruned from your life habits?
3.	Write about the parable of the seed in relationship to your choices and history. Are you good soil, ready for growth and fruit bearing? What are some ways to improve your soil? Might it be good to begin keeping a record of what revelation He is sharing with you?
4.	What is your plan to begin acknowledging Him in all your ways?
5.	How can you now employ the practice of thanking God in the midst of the darkest events of your living? What place will feelings have in holding you back or helping you gain strength in faith? You must decide!
